

What Others are Saying About Desire to Destiny

It is time for God's people to be the head rather than the tail. The presence of righteousness is needed in every area of society including business, government, education, communication, sales and services. God is calling people to rise out of mediocrity, accept responsibility and take positions of leadership.

Relating to these subjects, I had the privilege of co-authoring an earlier book with John Garfield entitled, Releasing Kings for Ministry in the Marketplace. We have had a terrific response with communications from all over the world. Individuals, Bible study groups and churches have embraced the message of kings in the marketplace. As a result, dedicated Christians have gone out full of faith and more confidence to impact the world for the kingdom of God.

Now John has developed this message even further, with a passion to inspire Christians to respond to the call of God in all areas of society. John is creating faith and excitement in those who are willing to succeed. He is removing obstacles which exist in the minds of the hesitant. He is provoking those who sit in the starting gates. He is injecting fire in the hearts of those who are willing and he is releasing the entrepreneurial spirit. John is challenging God's people to walk the streets where Jesus would walk-the streets of the business world and community right around you.

Meditate on the words written herein and you will see yourself being propelled forward.

John's new book "Desire to Destiny" has capsulated a progressive vision for marketplace ministry that is prime for the hour. The book communicates a business-ministry model that is easy to understand and attainable for anyone with a little initiative. I greatly appreciate the bottom line focus on wealth for a purpose, reaching the world for Christ. This book is far superior to your first book in content and instilling practical vision. Well done John!

John - First let me take a moment to say how wonderful I think the new book is. What a grace God has given you to be able to express the marketplace ministry in such a clear format. After reading your book I was re-inspired by God's concept of reaching the world through our heart's desires. I encourage you to read and re-read each chapter allowing the Holy Spirit to draw a map and point you in a new direction. The Marketplace is truly where the breath of God is blowing. I encourage you to join in the fun and see God touch lives.

When I first met John, I could tell instantly what ignites his heart and passion. Desire to Destiny spells it clearly and profoundly. John provides both a theological and practical framework for understanding the potential of those in the marketplace. Barriers between work and faith - business and missions – are melting and God is using an unexpected platform to transform individuals, businesses and nations. Imagine the impact we could have on this world by just capturing and living our dreams. This book is a must read for businesspeople as well as pastors and church leaders who desire to know more about those who make up their congregations.

A prophet spoke over me years ago, that the move of God that I was born for was not yet in the earth. I wondered as I wandered, I struggled with walking away from a ministry that was somewhat fulfilling but just not me. My destiny was not being lived out, and I knew it.

Releasing Kings was like a breath of fresh air; confirmation and the final dose of permission that I needed to march ahead whole heartedly. Living this message is amazing. It often scares me, like Peter ready to step out of the boat into the unknown. But my destiny is being pursued, and it is rewarding.

John Garfield has taken the next step, the practical step. Desire to Destiny is the nuts and bolts of the message. Clearly the time has come. The move of God is in the earth. God's people are receiving the authority to live the message, the freedom to be the expression of God in the earth, and the confidence to know and understand that their life is ministry. Our eyes have been opened. Desire to Destiny gives the practical insight and guidance to take the next step.

John Garfield has written a magnificent follow up to Releasing Kings, with his new book Desire to Destiny. It is a wonderful testimony and primer for all those who have even the smallest feeling there is more. There is! John reminds us, in the plain words of those of us in the marketplace every day, what a father does and how to recognize we live in the Kingdom now if we will truly believe and live in a full relationship with God.

The book mirrors so much of my wife and my walk with the Lord these past seven years, that it is exciting to find there are indeed many others on the same path. The power of networking and sharing our testimonies cannot be emphasized enough. If indeed "we overcome by the power of the blood and the word our testimony", then we must learn to express it and live it for others to see, not just hear. John's new book can be a tremendous reminder and aid for us engaged in it and for all who desire to follow. I highly recommend it.

Just as professionals in every area of the marketplace keep copies of books, manuals, and text for quick reference during their working hours, John's Book should be treated as such for the Serious Kingdom minded person. During consultations with International Christian Business Leaders over the past 12 months, I have heard on several occasions that they struggled with what seems to be a fragmentation. I believe Desire to Destiny is designed to equip you, in such a way, as to be positioned to bring strength and unity to The Body of Christ. My Prayer is that as you study John's Book you would receive Clarity of the solutions that exist to the challenges before you. I thank you John, for your obvious perseverance.

It is clear that John Garfield has his finger on the pulse of God's direction for the kingdom. He is a pioneer among church leaders who are taking a fresh look at this incredible move of God in the marketplace. From Desire to Destiny: Seven Keys To Your Marketplace Ministry is a clarion call for the Body of Christ to bridge the gap between business and work and to partner together as God intended. This awesome book is that tool to equip Kings and Priests to realize that we are all on the winning team, i.e., God's Team. This relevant message is for this hour.

I recently had the opportunity of working with John Garfield during our first Releasing Kings Conference in Alberta, Canada. It's one thing reading his books, which I know can personally ignite a divine "spark" in the entrepreneur's heart. It's another thing to work with John in the marketplace. Susan and I are privileged to be partnering with John on "Releasing Kings" Conferences, and helping with some of the mentoring services and new website for "Desire to Destiny," www.desiretodestiny.com. As a couple, Susan and I continue to be impacted and our own dreams being fulfilled. Desire to Destiny will give you practical steps and tools to implement that "freedom" received from Releasing Kings. Desire to Destiny will help you take bold decisive steps expressing your gifts and talents to those who need them most. God's anointing is all over this message! God gets excited about people that boldly express the freedom they've received, and spread this throughout the marketplace. John's heart is to help do for you what he is doing for us. So trust your heart, believe that "passion" that makes you come alive, and boldly take the steps to a great adventure. We would be overjoyed to hear your story.
